HAPPY LABOR DAY

Labor Day weekend is one of the busiest and deadliest times on U.S. roadways. As a result, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration will enforce a National Impaired Driving Crackdown which is when law enforcement officials will focus their attention on impaired drivers.

The National Safety Council estimates 400 traffic fatalities will occur over the Labor Day weekend, and another 38,800 injuries requiring medical treatment will occur as a result of motor vehicle collisions. Labor Day traffic fatalities have increased an average of 14.6 percent over the last six years, which is more than similar non-holiday periods.

The NSC also estimates 142 people may survive the holiday weekend because they had worn safety belts, and that another 102 lives would have survived if they had worn safety belts.

NSC also suggests:

- If you are drinking, do not drive
- If you plan to drink, designate a non-drinking driver or plan for alternative transportation, such as a taxi
- Support the strengthening and vigorous enforcement of impaired-driving laws
- Young drivers are at particular risk to be involved in alcohol-related crashes (if there is a young driver in your family, strictly enforce a zero tolerance policy with alcohol – all states have a minimum drinking age of 21)
- Your best defense against a drunk driver is wearing your safety belt, so buckle up

There are a number of other dangers to Labor Day weekend drivers besides impaired driving. Follow these additional tips to stay safe:

- Establish and enforce a driver's distraction-free zone, especially in cars equipped with electronic devices including cell phones, video games and global positioning systems
- Make sure all passengers are buckled up and children are in age-appropriate safety seats
- Allow plenty of travel time to avoid frustration and diminish the impulse to speed
- Drive defensively and exercise caution, especially during inclement weather

The National Safety Council (nsc.org) saves lives by preventing injuries and deaths at work, in homes, communities, and on the roads through leadership, research, education and advocacy.
