IN CASE OF AN EMERGENCY

DIAL 911

Between work, family life, class availability and the general hectic, busy schedule of most college students, many end up taking evening classes. While night classes are mandatory for many, or are simply taken for convenience purposes, they do create an added danger that students must take seriously. Every day, assault, theft and other crimes are reported on college campuses across the country. While crimes occur at all times of the day, nighttime adds an extra degree of risk that requires added precaution. Use the following night safety ideas and tips to protect yourself when you are on campus.

Campus Resources

- ◇ Every student should be aware of the safety resources available on their campus. Remember that your tuition pays for many free services that your campus wants you to utilize. Know emergency campus phone numbers and the locations of safety departments in case of emergencies.

Be Prepared

- ◇ Always let someone know where you are going, your expected travel time, and how long you plan on being in that location.
- ◇ If you know you will be out late, try to wear reflective or bright clothing to not only make yourself more visible to drivers but to also help someone spot you faster in case of an assault.
- ◇ Plan your travel route ahead of time before you leave. By knowing exactly where you are going you will reduce your travel time and will appear more confident which ultimately lowers your chances of becoming a crime victim.

Walking

- ◇ Always have someone, or a group of people that you trust to travel with at night. There truly is safety in numbers, especially at night.
- ◇ Always walk in well-lit, highly visible areas.
- ◇ Stay in familiar areas and avoid shortcuts when possible.

Cars on Campus

- ◇ Never leave valuable items in your car in open view.
- ◇ Park in well-lit areas. This is an important step to remember throughout the day. It is easy to forget to park in unsafe areas during the day, but always try to see if the area will be safe for you to return to at night.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

THIS WEEK: THE 12 WEEK PLAN: WEEK 2: Last week you should have started your emergency kit and began to purchase additional gallons of water for your household. This week you need to get your nonperishable food for your family. Get foods like tuna, juices, canned vegetables, canned fruits, peanut butter, crackers, and any other foods that do not need refrigeration that your family likes to eat. If you have cans without "pop-tops" make sure to have a manual can opener. No electricity = no electric can opener! For more info: www.ready.gov

MISSION STATEMENT

The SBCCD Police Department, in concert with the Board of Trustees, is committed to providing a safe and secure learning and working environment for all students and employees. This will be accomplished through a cooperative and coordinated effort involving all departments and the SBCCD employees, law enforcement agencies and community.
