FRAUD SCHEMES RELATED TO COVID-19 VACCINES

As college courses, working from home, socializing, and many other aspects of life continue to be conducted online during the COVID-19 pandemic, it is more important than ever for you to protect yourself from cyber criminals and potential scams. To that end and as the COVID-19 vaccines continue to be distributed worldwide, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Department of Health and Human Services Office of Inspector General (HHS-OIG), and Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), informed us of several emerging fraud schemes related to COVID-19 vaccines that you should be aware of to protect yourself and avoid becoming a victim of pandemic scammers.

The following are some potential indicators of fraudulent activity:

- Advertisements or offers for early access to a vaccine upon payment of a deposit or fee
- Requests asking you to pay out of pocket to obtain the vaccine or to put your name on a COVID-19 vaccine waiting list
- Marketers offering to sell and/or ship doses of a vaccine, domestically or internationally, in exchange or payment of a deposit or fee
- Unsolicited emails, telephone calls, or personal contact from someone claiming to be from a medical office, insurance company, or COVID-19 vaccine center requesting personal and/or medical information to determine recipients' eligibility to participate in clinical vaccine trials or obtain the vaccine
- Claims of Food and Drug Administration (FDA) approval for a vaccine that cannot be verified
- Advertisements for vaccines through social media platforms, email, telephone calls, online, or from unsolicited/unknown sources
- Individuals contacting you in person, by phone, or by email to tell you the government or government officials require you to receive a COVID-19 vaccine

Tips to avoid COVID-19 vaccine related fraud:

- Consult your county's or state's health department website for up-to-date information about authorized vaccine distribution channels and only obtain a vaccine through such channels
- Check the FDA's website (fda.gov) for current information about vaccine emergency use authorizations
- Don't share your personal or health information with anyone other than known and trusted medical professionals
- Follow guidance and recommendations from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and other trusted medical professionals

General online/cyber fraud prevention techniques:

- Verify the spelling of web addresses, websites, and email addresses that look trustworthy but may be imitations of legitimate websites
- Ensure operating systems and applications are updated to the most current versions
- Update anti-malware and anti-virus software and conduct regular network scans
- Do not communicate with or open emails, attachments, or links from unknown individuals
- Never provide personal information of any sort via email; be aware that many emails requesting your personal information may appear to be legitimate

If you believe you have been the victim of COVID-19 fraud, immediately report it to your local law enforcement agency, the FBI (ic3.gov, tips.fbi.gov, or 1-800-CALL-FBI) or HHS OIG (tips.hhs.gov or 1-800-HHS-TIPS).
