Halloween Safety Tips for Drivers

Halloween is a wonderful holiday, but because of increased foot traffic and that Trick-or-Treaters are out at night, the potential for automobile related accidents with young pedestrians increases four times on this night according to a CDC (Center for Disease Control) study.

Streets are literally crawling with all sorts of witches, ghosts, goblins, vampires and all other sorts of costumed people. This makes for added responsibility for drivers to make sure that they drive safer than normal.

In many areas, people drive their kids into subdivisions and let them out to walk from house to house. Usually the parent follows behind in the car. This can cause traffic jams in small areas and much confusion as kids dart between cars on the streets going from house to house. A driver is already distracted because they are trying to keep an eye on their own kids and usually aren't paying attention to much else.

Children and adults tend to be preoccupied and may not pay as much attention to safety as they should. They may not see your vehicle or just assume that you see them automatically. Stay on the defensive and you shouldn't have a problem while driving on Halloween night.

- ⚠ Don't use a cell phone or other electronic device while driving on Halloween night.
- ⚠ Pay extra attention, particularly to crosswalks, intersections and the side of the road.
- ⚠ Drive below the posted speed limit in residential areas during trick-or-treating hours.
- ⚠ Do not pass other vehicles that have stopped in the roadway.
- ⚠ Instruct your child to never get into the car of a stranger.
- ⚠ It's also a night that child predators are looking for victims. Let your child know that they should never get into the car of a stranger at any time.
- ⚠ Make sure your child carries a flashlight, glow stick or has reflective tape on their costume to make them more visible to cars.
- ⚠ If you are dropping off or picking up your kids in an area, pull off the road into a safe spot and turn on your hazard lights to alert other motorists. If you go with your kids from door to door, leave the hazard lights on so other drivers can see your car parked there.

MISSION STATEMENT

The SBCCD Police Department, in concert with the Board of Trustees, is committed to providing a safe and secure learning and working environment for all students and employees. This will be accomplished through a cooperative and coordinated effort involving all departments and the SBCCD employees, law enforcement agencies and community.
