

Career Education Program Two-Year Review
Program Efficacy Report
Spring 2015

Name of Department: Accounting

Efficacy Team: Kenny Melancon and Sandra Moore

Overall Recommendation (include rationale): Continuation

The overall recommendation is continuation. The program has moderate to high demand and supports the mission of the College. More documentation on the cost should be included in the next review.

1. Purpose of this Program

Efficacy Team Analysis and Feedback:

Reviewer Statements: There have been no changes in the program mission in the last two years. The purpose supports the College's mission.

2. Demand for this Program

Efficacy Team Analysis and Feedback:

Reviewer Statements: The Accounting Program indicates moderate to high demand for the program. Evidence of labor market data and advisory input are included. The program provides justification for continuation and additional faculty

3. Quality of this Program

Efficacy Team Analysis and Feedback:

Reviewer Statements: Program quality remains high despite the lack of full-time faculty. The program has provided evidence supporting the quality of the program, student interest, faculty qualifications, etc. This program should be continued.

4. External Issues

Efficacy Team Analysis and Feedback:

Reviewer Statement: The program complies with external issues and should be continued.

5. Cost of this Program

Efficacy Team Analysis and Feedback: No data was submitted for the original report, however, through email, the program reported on FTEs and other data that demonstrate that the program income does not exceed expenditures.

6. Two-Year Plan

Efficacy Team Analysis and Feedback:

The program plans include improving and update courses, increasing degree and certificate completion, and continued assessment of SLOs and PLOs. The program will develop a plan to communicate information about accounting careers to students. These plans are reasonable, although how degree and certificate completion will be increased was not mentioned. The plans are on track for the next two years.
