Hi Patti & Ginny,

I'm attaching files and also sending links to the Excel table and the Word document that lists the database titles.

I don't know if I captured what we need to give the other librarians and to Ron, so let me know how I can make changes.

Also, the Excel table only goes up to $65,190, so I'm sure I'm missing something in there.

I've bolded the new selections and crossed out the nonrenewals.

Our discussions have been really productive, I think! I'm learning a lot.

Thanks! Maria

Great, Ginny!

I ran usage numbers yesterday and feel that the Legal Information Reference Center should be kept because it replaced our Nolo book collection, but you'll see our students don't care. The stats are from 5/4/19-5/4/20:

Biography Ref. Center Total Sessions: 414; Total full text: 626

History Reference Center Total Sessions: 691; Total full text: 1183

Legal Information Reference Center Total Sessions: 423; Total full text 256 (ugh! doesn't support me wanting to keep it)

Literary Reference Center Plus Total Sessions: 942; Total full text 2678

Referencia Latina Total Requests: 42, Total full text 20

Religion & Philosophy Total Requests: 1499, Total full text 663

I thought it would be interesting to see what Academic Search Complete numbers were, Total requested 193,578, Total full text 64, 140

Hi!

I've been going through the EBSCO lists online, and here's my choice for the Pick 11. I can be persuaded in other directions! I just wanted to put this down before I forgot what I was doing. I may have gotten things wrong in terms of what we already have and what we don't have to subscribe
