SBVC Campus Community,

September 15 to October 15 is National Hispanic Heritage Month, and the SBVC librarians are excited to celebrate the culture and contributions of the Latinx community.

We would like to share these resources and events happening across the San Bernardino Community College District, and we invite you to visit the Library home page for contact information and access to the Library Drop-in Zoom service.

Alexander Street Academic Video Online offers the following films, among many others.

- Dolores (2017, Ro*Co Films): A film about Dolores Huerta.
- Quinceañera (2006): Sundance winner, "A story fueled by the racial, class, and sexual tensions of a Latino neighborhood in transition."
- The Three Burials of Melquiades Estrada / Los Tres Entierros De Melquiades Estrada (2005): "The U.S.-Mexico border has long been plagued with violence and racism, and many of the events that unfold in The Three Burials of Melquiades Estrada are accurate depictions of the ongoing abuse of human rights in the region."
- Latino Americans: The 500-Year Legacy That Shaped a Nation (2013; 6 episodes): PBS explores the history of Latino Americans from 1565 to the present.
- The Latino List, Vol. 1 (2011): "HBO presents a unique glimpse into the vibrant and burgeoning culture of Hispanic America through a series of highly personal video portraits of Latinos who have richly contributed to the fabric of contemporary society."
- The Latino List, Vol. 2 (2013): HBO continues its look at the Latinx community by featuring "interviews with an extraordinary cross-section of Hispanic Americans who represent a variety of professions, disciplines, and backgrounds, each speaking to the unique struggles and triumphs he or she has faced."
- The Graduates / Los Graduados (2013, PBS): Part 1 "looks at the special challenges faced by many Latina students through the stories of three remarkable young women." Part 2 "profiles three young Latinos who have overcome enormous challenges, through the help of family, friends and community organizations, en route to completing their education."
