DRAFT

Educational Master Plan /Strategic Planning– J. Smith

- J. Smith: Discussed the ILO to Student and Faculty Climate survey. In the survey, students indicated how much they feel like they have improved in the ILO areas because of attending classes at San Bernardino Valley College or the faculty indicating how much they felt the students had improved.
- The evaluated ILO/Campus Climate survey data was entered from 2018-2019 campus climate surveys and created a percentile ranking to see which ones were rated high and which ones were rated low. The areas that were rated low tend to include problem solving and math.
- James met with the math department to discuss this data along with the data for achievement. The two kinds of data were the perception of learning, and the perceptions on math skills. Both the perception of learning and the perception on math skills were low. This positions with retention and success measures where math skills tend to group at the bottom, which means the perception measured and performance measures agrees.
- S. Lewis and T. Vasquez noted that the campus climate surveys are anonymous, and that there is no way of knowing how many math and science faculty responded to the survey. James confirmed and suggested that the ILO portion of the survey could be sent out to all faculty to gather information from the divisions and departments so the ILO/Campus Climate survey data could be separated by divisions and departments.
- An email will go out to the campus and community soon for a Virtual Campus & Community Planning Meeting. The meeting will be September 23, 2020 from 5:00-7:00 pm. The discussion topics will include: Covid-19, Transition to Online Practices, Campus Commitment to Anti-Racism, AB-705 and Guided Pathways, Asset Mapping of Community Resources, and CTE/Strong Workforce Update. There will be breakout sessions at the meeting. Registration is required.
