

BIOL 251 SLO

- 1) Students will outline the steps involved with depolarization and repolarization of the plasma membrane through a written report, an exam
- 2) Students will compare and contrast the hormonal differences between genders and its distinguish the different results in a written report, an exam, or a detail comparison chart
- 3) Given an example of hormone secretion, students will explain the regulatory effects through a written report, an exam.