

Student Learning Outcome

San Bernardino Valley College
Criminal Justice Division
Corrections Department

Corrections Certificate

Students are prepared to:

1. Apply knowledge and skills required in securing and maintaining employment.
2. Compare and contrast the differences between probation and parole.
3. Differentiate and identify control techniques in crisis situations within the correctional setting.
4. Distinguish the responsibilities and liabilities of the laws governing a correctional officer.
5. Assess the legal framework within the incarceration process.
6. Compare prison gang membership both inside and outside the facility.
7. Choose to further personal interests by completing the requirements for an Administration of Justice degree or developing skills as a crime scene investigator.